A NATIVE FEAST.

ROAST PIG AND OTHER DELICACIES GALORE.

How the Masonic Ladies Entertained Their Guests at Kalihi.

The ladies composing the Masonic Temple furnishing committee proved last week that they do not do things by halves, and the luau which was given at Kalihi yesterday was no exception to the rule. The affair was given more as a compliment to the people who attended their series of lunches, and not as a money getting device. But nevertheless it turned out a money maker, as the receipts amounted to $379.75, with additional outstanding moneys to be collected.

The luau in all other respects was a big success also. Everything was arranged so well and everybody present agreed that a better Hawaiian feast could not be prepared. The food, as is usual in such entertainments, was cooked underground by natives, and the tables fairly groaned under the weight of the many dishes. Shortly after noon the guests took their seats at the tables, and for nearly an hour about 350 people were kept busily engaged in feasting. At the second table about 150 more guests were supplied with all their hearts and appetites could wish for.

While the luau was in progress the Hawaiian band played at intervals, and a portion of the success of the day is attributed to Professor Berger and his hired men.

The young ladies who had charge of the flower booth were very attentive to their duties, and their motto seemed to be "let no one escape." They took in $68.50 during the day.

After the feasting was through with dancing was in order, and at an intermission an auction sale took place which netted $68.50. The principal articles disposed of were an oil painting of Diamond Head and a wooden hatchet. The hatchet was made entirely of native woods and it was donated by Mr. Jay Greene.

The whole affair was enjoyable and great credit is due to the executive committee—Mrs. J. A. Hassinger, Mrs. J. S. McGrew, Mrs. A. Fuller, Mrs. E. D. Tenney, Mrs. A. Brown, Mrs. M. N. Sanders, Mrs. J. H. Soper, Mrs. Chas. Williams, Miss Finkler, Miss D. Noonan, Mrs. T. Sorenson and Mrs. Dr. Wood.

A GENERAL HOLIDAY.

Kamehameha's Birthday is Celebrated With a Will

Kamehameha's birthday was generally observed as a holiday yesterday. The banks and business houses were closed. There was no business transacted either in the courts or government offices. In the morning the Hawaiian band gave a concert on the grounds of the executive building, and at noon the battery company fired a salute of twenty-one guns in honor of the day. There was plenty of amusement for all, and many people, both old and young, took advantage of the opportunity to take an outing. The picnic at Punahou was well attended by the scholars of the Central Union Sunday school and their parents; the Masonic luau at Kalihi proved to be a popular event, and many people took a ride to Ewa to inspect the big sugar mill.

The Downfall of a Tyrant.

A while since a telegram announced that the Khan of Khelat, being displeased with certain of his ministers and wives, had had their heads chopped off. The record of this wretch, who has been drawing an annual salary of 125,000 rupees from the British Government, proves to be as follows:

Has lately murdered 65 persons.
Killed 4 wives.
Burnt one alive.

Murdered 3000 people.
Therefore he is declared to be deposed.—Calcutta cablegram in the London Chronicle.

A Freak of the Missouri River.

A South Dakota court is trying a liquor case which involves the question of the State boundary line. The channel of the Missouri river has shifted since the line was surveyed and the defendant declares that his saloon is situated on a strip of ground that is not within the jurisdiction of either State. He is between the Scylla of prohibition in one State and the Charydis of high license in the other.

THE CITY OF PEKING.

Largest American Built Steamer Afloat.

The S. S. City of Peking, R. R. Searle, commander arrived on Saturday from the Orient. She came inside and docked at the mail wharf. It is not generally known that the vessel is the largest American built passenger steamer afloat.

She was built in 1874 by John Roach and Sons of New York. Her gross tonnage is 5079. She is 423 feet in length and 48 feet breadth. She is handsomely fitted up and for comfort no vessel plying in Pacific waters can excel her.

Her arrival on Saturday morning was a great surprise to many people as she was four days overdue. The delay was caused by heavy weather in the Island Sea which caused a detention of 17 hours. When Kobe was reached unexpected storms caused another delay of 43 hours. She left Yokohama on the 30th ult.

But few passengers were for this port. In the cabin were Rev. M. C. Saunders, W. R. Barnes and Mr. and Mrs. Emmants. There were 30 Chinese and 6 Japanese who will be detained at the quarantine station for some days. The Peking departed Saturday at about 4 o'clock for San Francisco.

REVIVAL OF THE BLUE RIBBON.

Temperance Work Again Inaugurated at Y. M. C. A. Hall.

The musical and literary entertainment given at the Y. M. C. A. parlors on Saturday evening by the temperance committee of that institution was not very largely attended. Mr. P. C. Jones, in opening the exercises, said that the meeting was a revival of the Blue Ribbon meetings held there several years ago, and spoke encouragingly of the bichloride of gold treatment for inebriates.

The following programme was successfully rendered, the Misses Paty, T. Cumming and Mr. Murphy being encored:

Violin and Piano—Prayer and air from Der Frieschutz.... Misses Paty Song..... Mrs. Levi Lyman Reading..... Mrs. W. W. Hall Song—"Dear Heart," Miss Flemming Recitation..... Mr. Murphy Temperance Address—Professor T. Richards.

Prof. Richards, of Kamehameha schools gave a 15-minute talk on the temperance question. He related of the conditions of intemperate class of men he saw in New York. They were the lowest and most disreputable set of beings he ever looked upon.

AFTER THE STAR.

An Editor's Life is Not a Happy One.

Walter G. Smith, the editor of the Hawaiian Star, was arrested on Saturday on a charge of libel at the instance of Claus Spreckels. Mr. Smith was allowed to go on his own recognizance. The case will be called this morning in the district court.

Mr. Spreckels took exception to an editorial which appeared in last Friday's issue of the Star. It is entitled "Herr Rothschild van Katzenjammer."

Going to Kauai.

Captain Schlemmer of the police force has resigned to accept a position as luna on the Kilauea plantation, Kauai. The vacancy on the police roll will not be filled for the present.

The number of gas and electric lamps required to illuminate New York after nightfall is 28,000. The streets lighted are 528 miles in length; the parks lighted cover sixty-six acres, and the piers two miles. The whole cost of keeping the city lighted is $800,000 a year. The city pays on the average $18 a year for the gas furnished to each lamppost.
